Feature Description

CodeInspect GUI: With every edition of CodeInspect, you can import Android apps from APK files or devices, and can debug the code (including reading and manipulating runtime values). Code modifications are also always possible.

Free Release Updates: As long as your CodeInspect licenses is valid, you receive free upgrades whenever we release a new version of the product.

Java Decompiler: With our Java Decompiler, you can not only view the app's code in the Jimple language, but also in Java.

Code Analysis Features: Our innovative code analysis features automatically extract texts from the app, map all required permissions to the places in the code where they are used, give you an overview over sensitive API calls, and allow you to interactively inject code while debugging. We constantly add new analysis features in new versions.

Works without Internet Connection: In this mode, you can run your own license server inside your company network. Only this server needs to be connected to the Internet, but not the individual machines that run CodeInspect.

Floating Licenses: You only need one license per concurrent user, even if different people use CodeInspect on different machines over time. Without this feature, you would need one license per machine that runs CodeInspect.

Priority Handling of Fixes: In case you notice an issue with CodeInspect, we will review your issue request before processing support requests from non-priority customers.

Early Access to Beta Features: With this option, you get access not only to new release versions of CodeInspect as long as your license is valid, but also to our testing builds that preview new features. This gives you the chance to influence the development of CodeInspect and stay ahead of the competition with features not yet available to the broad public.
